Consider....

'We are all called to be holy by living our lives with love and by bearing witness in everything we do, wherever we find ourselves. Are you called to the consecrated life? Be holy by living out your commitment with joy. Are you married? Be holy by loving and caring for your husband or wife, as Christ does for the Church. Do you work for a living? Be holy by labouring with integrity and skill in the service of your brothers and sisters. Are you a parent or grandparent? Be holy by patiently teaching the little ones how to follow Jesus. Are you in a position of authority? Be holy by working for the common good and renouncing personal gain.' Pope Francis, Gaudete et Exultate, 14

News from St John's

Fr Victor Adigboluja: I sincerely wish to thank you and the good people of St John's Corstophine, for your warm reception and show of love during my last visit. I appreciate all of these, and I ask the good Lord to continue to bless you always. Fr Victor

Br. Guy Consolmagno SJ
(Director of the Vatican Observatory)

'Adventures of a Vatican Astronomer'

Guy Consolmagno is both a Jesuit brother and a planetary scientist at the Vatican Observatory, splitting his time between the meteorite collection in Rome and the Vatican telescope in Arizona. Thanks to his Vatican connections, his work has sent him around the world several times to dozens of countries and every continent (including a meteorite hunting expedition to Antarctica). In this talk he will share some of those adventures, and reflect on the larger meaning of our common experience as scientists... not only what we do, but why we do it.

Health in Mind invite you to take part in their Forth Rail Bridge charity abseil on Sunday 21st October. The abseil is 165ft down one of Scotland's most iconic structures, and is an SAS-style abseil, rather than bouncing off a wall. No previous experience is required, and a team of skilled instructors will be there to ensure your safety throughout. If interested in taking part or would like more information email fundraising@health-in-mind.org.uk, tel 225 8508.

Reflection: Being a follower of Jesus means to be 'sent out'. Our spiritual lives ought to be visible on the outside through our actions and dealings with others. The disciples are sent in twos for companionship but also as a team; one person cannot have all the gifts and there is support in working with another.

We might interpret the many demons that they cast out as all those things in the world that are not of the Spirit, the injustices in our world. Jesus sends the disciples out to work for a better world, to bring more love, compassion and peace to those that they encounter. They go and urge people to repent, to turn around. This is one of the goals of their mission and Jesus' mission: to turn the world around.

Jesus' instructions to shake the dust from their feet when they feel unwelcome may seem harsh at first. We too may fear rejection and when we experience it, it can leave us feeling exhausted and upset. Perhaps the message here is to free ourselves and move on; to not let that disappointment and upset control our lives because if we do, we lose our freedom, it holds us back and it starts to define us. In the midst of that experience, our true mission can become lost. As we prepare to welcome Pope Francis to Ireland, let us go out and bring joy and hope to those we encounter. You might be the only gospel which people read. Jane Mellett
